The presentation gave an overview of the definition of trauma and the types of trauma, the impact of trauma, and how we can become informed and responsive. An update was also provided on the trauma development plan in East Ayrshire. Neil advised that the new Alcohol and Drugs strategy has just been released. Laura also mentioned the scoping and benchmarking development plan and will share with the group via Liam. George wished to mention that NHS training with Third Sector Services would be helpful in helping to signpost people, as often these services may be unsure when dealing with difficult situations and some service users may be overlooked. Laura advised that the LPASS document will be helpful with this. Linda D advised that feedback has been taken on board and the NHS team have been asked to review recent sanctions/ reductions and consider what the other options might be for these service users i.e. engage with the person, not 'punish'. Linda questioned whether there would be any group activity set up. Laura also advised that the Survive and Thrive Group will be up and running shortly and will hopefully be embedded in the near future.	Laura Mitchell/ Liam Wells

Both have had experience of drug use and violent relationships but are now working with the SDF. They both experienced similar issues with knowing which services to access when they experienced problems with housing and their children. Linda questioned whether there were any cross-boundary processes in place (i.e. within Housing). George advised that for service users it can be a scary process approaching services for help and that it would be helpful to set out the process when they initially get in contact (i.e. who will they meet, how long will processes take, what to expect). Linda mentioned the presentation on the work by Pause Scotland and how this 'wrap-around' service may be beneficial in other situations.   East Ayrshire scoping presentation  Fiona wished to highlight to the group the issues around employing young people from difficult backgrounds and that businesses need to be made more aware of complexities surrounding this.
