PRACTITIONER BRIEFING NOTE

NO 5

TOPIC: The Adult Support and Protection (Scotland) Act 2007 - Supporting and Protecting People in East Ayrshire – Interagency Practitioner Guidance

BRIEFING: The Adult and Support and Protection Interagency Practitioners Guidance has been reviewed and updated in May 2014 to replace the East Ayrshire Interagency Operational Policy and Procedure: Support and Protection of Adults at Risk of Harm, December 2010.

The new Guidance has been subject to ongoing feedback from practitioners over the last 18 months and takes account of updates in local procedures, policies and changes to the West of Scotland ASP Guidance and Scottish Government Adult and Support and Protection (Scotland) Act 2007 Code of Practice April 2014 revisions. There is more robust inclusion of the interface between Child and Adult services as well as Adult and Child Protection. Access to the full revised document can be obtained from the hyperlink below.
