Dear Parent/Carer

UPDATE ON PROGRESS OF WORKS AT FENWICK PRIMARY SCHOOL

As the October school break approaches, I thought it would be useful to provide an update on recent developments.

You will have noticed that the extension is already starting to take shape and the children have been taking a keen interest in all developments, particularly those in primary 7. A meeting is to be arranged between East Ayrshire Council's Project Manager, Scott McCann, and members of the Pupil Council. Scott will be able to provide detail on how the works will develop over the next few weeks and months and answer any questions the children have about the project. At present, the project is still on target for completion in the first quarter of 2017.

Building Control has been making regular visits to the site and there have been no issues reported. For the internal works, discussions are taking place with the Head Teacher on the phasing of these works to ensure minimum disruption to learning and teaching.

Dining arrangements for the pupils are operating smoothly and the rota system for the play space is working well.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your patience, support and cooperation. I will continue to keep you informed of any developments in relation to the upgrading works.

Yours sincerely
